

Camping and Outdoor Skills weekend

17th and 18th May 2025

The Barrwood campsite, Stirling

Whether you are a budding or real live Ray Mears or don't know which end of an axe is which, this training weekend is for you and probably the only time you will camp at Barrwood with no young members to look after!

|--|-------------------------------|
| • Module 38 – Skills for Residential Experiences | SATURDAY 17 th May |
| • Module 16 - Planning for residential experiences | SATURDAY EVENING |
| • Module 17 – Running Safe Activities | SUNDAY 18 th May |
| • Module 18 – Practical Skills | SUNDAY 18 th May |

Attending this course should equip you with new skills and confidence to put the OUT in SCOUTING

Module 16 will be available on the Saturday evening as a stand-alone session, covering both indoor and outdoor venues. When you have completed these modules and built up a bit of experience of camping with other authorised leaders, you'll be ready to apply for a permit assessment in your District.

The weekend will cover both theory and hands-on practical sessions. Topics covered will include:

- Fire lighting and cooking on fire
- Care of tents
- Camping equipment
- Catering for a residential experience
- Axe and saw skills
- Adventurous Activity Permits
- Pioneering
- Risk assessment and safety on activities and camp
- Much, much more including opportunity to have other modules validated

There is an option to do only the Saturday sessions, focussing on camping skills.

If you do not want to attend on Sunday, please note that in the 'Notes' box on the booking form.
